Pub Quiz

Winning team: Special Knees

The Typographic Pub quiz was lively and well-attended, hosted by the charismatic Paul Lawrence. It was a closely-fought event with only a few points separating the top teams, but the four members of 'Special Knees' were clearly delighted to take first place.

- 1st: Special Knees
- 2nd: 3 Ems & a Pica
- 3rd: East Studio
- 4th: Wire

Question: Who designed the Chuppa Chups lolly logo?

Sauce: Amy Lewis, UK

Extra: Natasha Milieshina, Russia

Before: Madhu Agarwal, India

There are many people we would like to thank including Kirsty Lee, Paul Lawrence, Homestead, the Rio Cinema, The Foundry and McNaughtons Paper.

HOMESTEAD

16th to 27th April 2007
Homestead Gallery
148A St. John's Street,
London EC1V 4UD.
Mon-Fri, 9am - 6pm.
Sat April 21st, 12-6pm.

This exhibition follows on from the success of the event held in conjunction with the London Design Festival last year. The postcards feature typographically-led responses to randomly-assigned words created by participants from as far afield as Brazil, India, Russia and the US. The project is open to all - people who've got involved so far include Dave Gorman, Ed Fella and Isabelle Parker (age 10).
Each participant picks a number between 1 and 100 which corresponds to an unseen word cut out of an issue of Time Out magazine. This randomly selected word then becomes the basis for their postcard.
